Rights of Children

4081. SHRI C. PERUMAL: Will the Minister of HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT be pleased to state:

(a) whether India has signed the Charter 'Rights of Children';

(b) if so, the details thereof; and

(c) how many of the points in the Charter have been implemented by Government and the reasons for not implementing the remaining points?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT (SHRIMATI KANTI SINGH): (a) India acceded to the UN convention on the Rights of the Child in 1992 and adopted a National Charter for Children in 2004.

(b) The Convention on the Rights of the Child contains several rights of children relating to survival, development and protection. The text of the Convention is available at www.unicef.org/crc.

The National Charter for Children emphasizes Government's commitment to children's survival, health and nutrition, standard of living, play and leisure, early childhood care, education, protection of the girl child, empowering adolescents, equality, life and liberty, name and nationality, freedom of expression, freedom of association and peaceful assembly, the right to a family and the right to be protected from economic exploitation and all forms of abuse. The Charter also provides for protection of children in difficult circumstances, children with disabilities, children from marginalized and disadvantaged communities, and child victims. It also provides for responsibilities of both parents in rearing their children and also provides for ensuring child friendly procedures for the special care and protection of children in conflict with law. The text of the Charter is available at the website of the Department of Women and Child Development at www.wcd.nic.in.

(c) Rights of the children as enumerated in the Convention on the Rights of the Child and the issues of children as contained in the National Charter for Children are being addressed in several ways, namely, constitution provisions, policies, legislations and several schemes and programmes being implemented by different Ministries/Departments and States/UTs. The schemes and programmes include Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, Integrated Child Development Services, Reproductive and Child Health, Accelerated Rural Drinking Water Supply Programme, Central Rural Sanitation Programme, Pulse Polio, Integrated Programme for Street Children, Integrated Programme for Juvenile Justice, Scheme for elimination of child labour, and others.
